Beginner Apoxie Clay Have you been wanting to play with the new Apoxie Clay? This is a great time to get started. This is a 2-part clay that works similarly to epoxy, with the exception that it is a workable clay. When the clay dries, it bonds to ALMOST ANYTHING! In this class, you will get a chance to play with the clay in several ways: shaping the clay with tools, applying the clay to rocks, wood, paper, and experimenting with silicone molds.
Instructor will provide all the materials for this class.

Sunday Jan 20th 1 to 3pm $20 Elli Anderson

Alcohol Ink - Out of this world Come join Wendy as she introduces you to her newest alcohol ink technique. We will use matte finish Duralar as our base, creating a fine art piece suitable for framing. Students need to bring their Ranger alcohol ink colors that they want to use, blending solution and applicator. (Wendy recommends the round style) Alcohol ink is permanent! So PLEASE wear clothing that can get stained.

Saturday Feb 2nd 12 to 3pm $20 Wendy Schwartz

Clay Miniatures - Would you like to learn how to make miniatures out of clay? Come join in the fun and learn how to make miniature creations from beginning to end! Students will receive step-by-step instructions on how to make small creations like little houses, fruits and veggies. Be ready to sit for a period of time as you work on your creations as it can be tedious! We will be using the White Apoxie Clay for this class. All materials provided.

Sunday Feb 17th 1 to 4pm $30 Elli Anderson

"Neuland-esque" and "Cube" Lettering (NEW!)

This fun-packed, un-intimidating class is for non-calligraphers AND calligraphers alike! Let's get your fingers moving with a chisel edge calligraphy pen (Parallel Pen, ZIG marker, etc) as we learn these bold and blocky letter forms, perfect for decorating or simply making a bold statement! This class is a fantastic pre-cursor (though not required) to Negative is the New Positive, coming in April. Start with this class and add to the fun with the next one! Please bring: pencil, eraser, Borden & Riley #37 layout paper pad (9x12), and a ZIG 5mm calligraphy marker (dark color), or Parallel Pen size 3.8mm or 6.0mm.

Calligraphy - The "Carolingian Hand" (NEW!)

An elegant manuscript from the 9th century will be our launching point as we learn an early calligraphy style known as "Carolingian". This class is designed for new and continuing students of calligraphy. Former students will recognize characteristics of previously learned styles, and all students will learn the lasting influence Carolingian has played on script development throughout history. Join me for a six week intro, learning the skills and techniques to create these flowing and graceful letterforms. See store for a sample;
